

MAYUR PATEL, M.D.

Director of Nuclear Medicine, Union Memorial Hospital

EDUCATION

Dr. Patel graduated from the University of Mysore in India prior to his formal residency training in Nuclear Medicine at the University of Rochester Medical Center. He then completed a second residency in Diagnostic Radiology at the Medical Center Hospital of Vermont, which included training in Pediatric Radiology at The Children's Hospital of Boston, Harvard Medical School.

PROFESSIONAL/EXPERIENCE

Dr. Patel is a Nuclear Radiologist and PET specialist at American Radiology Services. He also serves as the Director of Nuclear Medicine and Nuclear Cardiology at Union Memorial Hospital. Dr. Patel has special interest in Thoracic Radiology and Oncologic Imaging and has lectured extensively on PET/CT at such meetings as the National Radiology Meeting of the American Roentgen Ray Society and World Class Radiology hosted by Loma Linda University.

LICENSURE/CERTIFICATION

Dr. Patel is a double Board certified physician. He is certified by the American Board of Nuclear Medicine and American Board of Diagnostic Radiology with a special competency in Nuclear Radiology. Dr. Patel is a member of the Radiological Society of North American and Society of Nuclear Medicine.

AMERICAN RADIOLOGY SERVICES

www.americanradiology.com